

TO MAKE CROSSVILLE A BETTER TOWN

The Chronicle has arranged with some of the leading Crossville citizens for a few articles suggesting what should be done for our town to make it a better town to live in and more attractive to good and progressive people as a place to live. In order that the writers may feel perfectly free to express themselves without being censured, the Chronicle has decided to withhold the names of the writers.

Granted that Crossville is a good town, our proposition is how to make it a better city. We want such a place that every traveling man will go away a booster, where the citizens will wish to remain and not move away, for better economic and educational advantages, to which people will be attracted from the four parts of the compass because it has a wide spread reputation of being a town of opportunity.

The following acrostic for the busy man or woman, who reads as he runs suggest a few of the most apparent needs of Crossville:

Canning plant and other industries.
Realization that we need something.
Organization of truck growers.
Street lights.
Support the Chamber of Commerce.
Vote and talk and work for better roads.

Incalculable need for a Community House and new public school building.
Larger vision on the part of leading citizens.

Less churches, but better ones.
Every man, woman and child a booster.

If you have never used a Duo-Point Waterman Fountain pen you have missed the latest and most complete thing in fountain pens. It writes coarse on one side and fine on the other—two pens in one; all you have to do to change from fine to coarse or coarse to fine is TURN THE PEN OVER. You can see this pen and try one at the CHRONICLE OFFICE. It will cost you nothing to look and try, but it might bring much pen comfort to own one.

Pulls Lighter Because it Sheds Better

There isn't a more satisfactory plow in this section than our John Deere - Syracuse Slat Moldboard Chilled Plow.

Where other plows fail, the "Slat" will travel right along, turning a good furrow, shedding slick and clean, breaking up the soil in the proper manner, and pulling light.

It's a mighty satisfactory plow to use in any soil, where a chilled plow is needed. It's the best plow in the world to use in soil that is difficult to shed.

The special slat moldboard design does the trick. You will be mighty well pleased at the way this design insures shedding, pulverizing and light draft.

The Slat is an unusually strong, long-lived plow. All original parts and all extra parts fit perfectly. Bottom parts are chilled extra deep where soil friction is greatest. The moldboard has a detachable shin piece, making it easy to maintain a keen-cutting edge. The die-dropped malleable standard combines special strength and lightness—holds all plow parts rigidly together.

We can furnish this plow in the size you want.

If you want a riding plow ask us about the John Deere-Syracuse No. 10 Sulky, equipped with the famous slat moldboard bottom

Be sure to see our slat moldboard plows—the sure remedy for plowing troubles.
